

Symmetry

key: Dm

4/4

Verse 1

Here we are, on the road again Headlights cut through the sugar cane.
Country tunes on the radio distant clouds, a moonlit glow.
The highway's ours, just you and me, Floating together through infinity.

Pre-chorus 1

The stars hang low, the world feels wide, The road ahead is where we collide.
The night's a canvas, the wheels paint lines, Our love's the song, and the rhythm aligns.

Chorus 1

Words come easy, words flow free, They move between us, in symmetry.
We rave of love, whisper in glee, Bound together, just you and me.

Verse 2

Town lights flicker like distant stars, Mile markers fade, strong dreams are ours.

Your hand in mine, steady and warm, The night protects us, safe from harm.
The silence hums, a melody deep, The rhythm of wheels rocks us deep.

Pre-chorus 2

The stars hang low, the world feels wide, The road ahead is where we collide.
The night's a canvas, the wheels paint lines, Our love's the song, and the rhythm aligns.

Chorus 2

Words come easy, words flow free, They move between us, in symmetry.
We rave of love, whisper in glee, Bound together, just you and me.

Bridge

No rush to arrive, no need for haste, Each passing mile feels perfectly placed.
The night's our witness, the stars our guide, Bound together, side by side.
The sky turns grey as dawn creeps in, The journey fades, but love won't dim.

Outro

Words come easy, words flow free, being together, in symmetry.

Words come easy, words flow free, Forever loving, in symmetry.
